

BOYCOTT. DISRUPT. TAKE ACTION FOR CONGO.

APPLE'S GENOCIDE IN CONGO

@weaving.our.worlds

Apple Profits from Genocide!

Apple uses modern-day slavery and child labour to mine minerals in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) for as little as $1 per day. Every iPhone sold and every iPhone bought is stained with Congolese blood. Cobalt, coltan, tin, and tungsten power our phones and laptops. But in the DRC, these blood minerals fuel conflict, illegal child labour, toxic pollution, and modern-day slavery.

BOYCOTT

Follow

@teamcongo.rdc @congofriends @applesagainstapartheid

BOYCOTT. DISRUPT. TAKE ACTION FOR CONGO.

APPLE'S GENOCIDE IN CONGO

@weaving.our.worlds

Apple Profits from Genocide!

Apple uses modern-day slavery and child labour to mine minerals in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) for as little as $1 per day. Every iPhone sold and every iPhone bought is stained with Congolese blood. Cobalt, coltan, tin, and tungsten power our phones and laptops. But in the DRC, these blood minerals fuel conflict, illegal child labour, toxic pollution, and modern-day slavery.

BOYCOTT

Follow

@teamcongo.rdc @congofriends @applesagainstapartheid

WE HAVE THE POWER TO DRIVE DOWN DEMAND FOR
BILLION DOLLAR TECH GIANTS!

APPLE PROFITS FROM GENOCIDE!

Over the past thirty years, 6 million people have died, 1.5 million women have been raped, and over 7 million people are displaced in this ongoing genocide.

Until all tech supply chains are fair, there can be no clean tech. But Apple has become a symbol of reckless consumerism - releasing a new phone every year, while ignoring death and exploitation behind its supply chain. Refusing to buy the latest iPhone and boycotting Apple is an important way to join the movement for global justice.

What Can I Do?

★ Opt for second-hand or refurbished phones

★ Assess if you truly need a new phone

★ Raise awareness about what's happening in Congo

★ Follow

@teamcongo.rdc

@congofriends

@applesagainstapartheid

Boycott Apple products
until Apple stops
profiting from genocide!

Apple must stop sourcing its cobalt from the Democratic Republic of Congo. Apple must also end its financial support for the Friends of the Israeli Defense Forces, which is fuelling Israel's genocide & occupation of Palestine.

WE HAVE THE POWER TO DRIVE DOWN DEMAND FOR
BILLION DOLLAR TECH GIANTS!

APPLE PROFITS FROM GENOCIDE!

Over the past thirty years, 6 million people have died, 1.5 million women have been raped, and over 7 million people are displaced in this ongoing genocide.

Until all tech supply chains are fair, there can be no clean tech. But Apple has become a symbol of reckless consumerism - releasing a new phone every year, while ignoring death and exploitation behind its supply chain. Refusing to buy the latest iPhone and boycotting Apple is an important way to join the movement for global justice.

What Can I Do?

★ Opt for second-hand or refurbished phones

★ Assess if you truly need a new phone

★ Raise awareness about what's happening in Congo

★ Follow

@teamcongo.rdc

@congofriends

@applesagainstapartheid

Boycott Apple products
until Apple stops
profiting from genocide!

Apple must stop sourcing its cobalt from the Democratic Republic of Congo. Apple must also end its financial support for the Friends of the Israeli Defense Forces, which is fuelling Israel's genocide & occupation of Palestine.